

A decorative graphic consisting of several light blue circles of varying sizes and thin blue lines. One large circle is in the upper right, a smaller one is below it, and another is further down and to the left. A thin line connects the top-left corner to the smaller circle. Another thin line connects the top-right corner to the large circle. A third thin line connects the top-left corner to the bottom-right corner, passing behind the circles. A large, partially visible circle is on the right edge of the page.
